UNITED STATES' MOTION FOR A PRETRIAL SCHEDULING ORDER

The United States of America respectfully requests that the Court enter the attached Proposed Scheduling Order for the filing of certain pretrial motions and exchange of other information.

Trial is scheduled to commence on December 1, 2025. The Government's proposed scheduling order would require discovery, notices, pretrial motions, and other trial-related information to be exchanged or filed on certain dates that conclude no later than several weeks before the final pretrial conference. Accordingly, the Government submits that the proposed schedule is an effective means to an orderly procession to the trial of this matter. The proposed schedule would also reduce the chance for surprises or emergency requests for relief, allow sufficient time for the Court to make pretrial rulings that may affect trial evidence, and, overall, facilitate trial.

On October 3, 2025, the undersigned was informed by counsel that Defendant objects to this schedule and will file a motion for continuance within the next week.

Respectfully submitted on October 3, 2025.
